It is Algeria which should host, next March, in its third week, the ordinary summit of the Arab League, which could already have been part of a past two years because planned for 2020. With the advent of Dame Covid, the meeting was postponed to 2022. Algiers will therefore be the host country of the next Arab summit, and finally of the old one according to the principle of rotation and rotating presidency.

So far, nothing abnormal and it is all to the credit of Algeria, except that good old Ramtane Lamamra, Algerian Minister of Foreign Affairs and of the Algerian Community abroad, found it useful in one of his favorite exercises of "pravdienne" propaganda through the French-speaking Algerian newspaper, L'Expression, a voice of his most patented master, to make the following statement, "The next Arab Summit will be the summit of inter-Arab solidarity and support for the Palestinian cause and the Saharawi people". A statement to say the least very adulterated and outdated moreover. The Algerian minister allows himself a diktat, by wanting to impose a regional agenda on the Arab countries, a pious wish.

Ramtane, obviously takes the Ummah for his platform and omits that it does not reveal the internal affairs of the military dictatorship of Algeria, of which he is willingly the servant. It is a "who rubs himself there pricks himself" which can cost him some. Ramtane, this tribune of the lost causes, in his inclinations and those of the regime to which he obeys and in his mad desire to awaken the spirits, in vain moreover, tries at all costs to impose the voice of the separatists of the Polisario internationally .

We have seen the results in particular before the Security Council where at each attempt it suffers from setbacks to setbacks. In Africa, they are in the process of being expelled, so our guy could not ask for better than a summit of the Arab League for another stab in the water. The exploitation of the next Arab summit for the sole purpose of passing the political positions of "El Mouradia" on the issue of the Moroccan Sahara, at a time when this meeting is intended to be a regional reconciliation station for a convergence of views far from ideological differences, disturbs more than one member within the Umma, not to say almost all of the countries making it up.

Mohamed Bentalha Doukkali, professor of political science at Cadi Ayyad University (UCA) in Marrakech in a relevant analysis of this context told Hespess that "the declaration made by the Algerian Minister of Foreign Affairs in the daily L'Expression concerning the next Arab summit, which according to him will be a summit in favor of the Palestinian and Sahrawi peoples, is provocative and contrary to responsible ethics".

Doukkali will add that "this clearly demonstrates the degree of wandering and the affliction of Algerian diplomacy resulting from its successive failures".

« It is a declaration with serious and incalculable consequences that must be the subject of a firm response from the Arab League and its members. », He believes.

The political scientist will explain that " the Polisario front is not a member of the League of Arab States, which is considered a violation of the League's Charter.

Also, for Mohamed Bentalha Doukkali, the Arab countries must boycott this summit that the Algerian government, of reckless actions, tries neither more nor less to dismantle or at least to stand out from the irresponsible remarks of the Algerian diplomatic representative. It is political escalation to impose an internal agenda to the detriment of the issues of the Arab Nation.

The professor of political science at Cadi Ayyad University in Marrakech concluded his statement to Hespress by stressing that this media outcry " highlights the degree of psychological collapse of the Algerian regime, which has taken the issue of discrimination and fragmentation as a fixed ideological doctrine ».

This is the shepherd's response to the shepherdess who thought of making this summit a stranglehold. " Algeria will have a big role to play at the upcoming Arab Summit. It will make every effort to establish consensual decisions " will say the vassal of a regime in the process of grabatisation. To laugh at it already under wraps. Time will tell !
